

ANOTHER SPACE GALLERY: 16TH ANNUAL JURIED MEMBERS' EXHIBITION

Saturday, June 28, 2014 to Saturday, August 9, 2014

Curated by Yan Wu, Another Space Gallery is Modern Fuel's 16th Annual Juried Members' Exhibition and will be presented at Modern Fuel from June 28th to August 9th, 2014. Works by the seven artists in this year's exhibition include Ben Darrah, Christine Dewancker, Rachel Kalpana James, Mary Porter, Fraser Radford, Joan Scaglione and Kathleen Sellars, and together reflect the excellence of the range of artistic practices of our members. An opening reception with the artists and curator in attendance will be held on Saturday, June 29th at 7 PM.

Formerly trained as a software engineer, Yan Wu is a Shanghai-born and Toronto-based curator. Her practice contemplates the interplay of public art, architecture and urban design. She has collaborated with arts organizations across Canada, including artist-run centres, public art galleries, and commercial spaces, such as Gendai Gallery, Art Metropole, Justina M. Barnicke Gallery, Gallery 101, etc.

In 2012, she initiated and curated a yearlong spatial and institutional experiment titled Gendai Workstation with a team of likeminded interdisciplinary collaborators. The project received a special jury award at the 25th Images Festival, and subsequently dissolved and transferred itself into an on-going landscape of mobile organization strategies: a moveable unit of modular furniture, a tote bag, and a library that privileges relations to book titles. She recently co-curated the Canadian Pavilion with Janine Marchessault at the 5th Bi-city Urbanism/Architecture Biennale in Shenzhen China. Currently, Wu is a candidate for Master of Visual Studies / Curatorial Studies at Daniels Faculty of Architecture, Landscape & Design at the University of Toronto.
